

In 2011, volunteering in the U.S. reached a five year high. Parents are leading the way, supporting youth and helping them find pathways to success.

MORE PARENTS VOLUNTEER

Parents volunteer at a higher rate than the general population

WORKING MOTHERS ARE KEY

Even though they are some of the busiest Americans, nearly 4 in 10 volunteer

HELPING THOSE IN NEED

Parents are addressing their communities' most pressing needs—including mentoring, tutoring, and teaching youth

FOCUSED ON YOUTH

More than 40% of parents' volunteer hours are spent in the service of youth through education and other support organizations

90.4%
OF PARENTS HAVE CONFIDENCE IN THEIR
PUBLIC SCHOOLS

READY TO VOLUNTEER?
Visit Serve.gov.

Corporation for NATIONAL & COMMUNITY SERVICE